The above, on motion of Jacob Moritz, was adopted.

CHAIRMAN BACON'S CONFIDENCE.

CHAIRMAN BACON'S CONFIDENCE. James A. Bacon, upon taking the chair said: "I want to say at the opening of this proceeding I am greatly surprised at the appointment, I didn't look for it. There is only one purpose in view, only one thing to do and that is to build the Salt Lake & Pacific. With this committee of 400 we can easily do it."

MR. AUERBACH BACKS IT.

Fred Auerbach in respunse to the request of the chair for a speech said: "Every dollar any man puts into this enterprise will come back dollar for dollar, and I will certainly put in all the money of Auerbach & Co. that can be spared, and do all the work that I possibly cau.

Col. Donnellan endorsed the sentiments of Mr. Auerbach.

K. Gillespie—We should go out believ my that we will succeed. All the business of the world is done on the credit system. The citizens must raise the money if they have to mortgage their property. MR. AUERRACH BACKS IT.

J. Y. Wallace—I am willing to subscribe and to go to work. He suggested that every person who was willing to work stand up.

All those present stood up.
All those present stood up.
Heber M. Wells wass called for and he said that he was no speechifier, but he was in for it.

W. H. Rowe was satisfied that this movement would bring ten times more results than the copper plant.

W. E. Kinney stated that he, today, wanted the Deep Creek railway worse than he did the copper plant and he was willing to work harder for it. "If I succeed during the next year as well as I have the last two weeks I will be able to build the Deep Creek railroad myself. I want to subscribe $25,000 to the Deep Creek railway, [Applause.] If my friends don't come up at the last minute I will get a man like Amos to make it good at the last moment. [Great applause.]

To the Minors:

GENTLEMEN.—In selecting the above names, we did so believing that you would co-operate with them, and that there would be no jealousy on any man's part, but all pull together. All miners, farmers and ranchmen should take all the stock that they can, knowing that without a railroad their property is worth but little. With it you will be wealthy. All stock subscribed for will be paid in installments. Develop your properties. Get out your ores for the Deep Creek railroad is coming.

MASS MEETING MUSIC.

President Bacon called for Mr. Loof-bourow, president of the city council.

'Does the president want to see me privately,'' he asked.

'I would rather hear from you publicly than privately,'' replied Chairman Bacon, and added—''It costs too much to see you privately;'' [Laughter.]

Mr. Loofborow thought that they were all of one mind and should advance the money as it would all come back to them.

Chairman Bacon stated that they proposed to hold a public meeting at the labernacle, if it can be had, if not at the thearte, when the people will be aroused to give the scheme their hearty support.

rates, and the public is becoming more impatient every day. There is a bare possibility that the Chicago conference will be unable to reach any agreement, and in that event it is impossible to fore-tell what the result would be. 'Fevery line would make its own rate,' said a passenger official, and then you would see some fun.

'The whole difficulty lies in the attitude of the lines cast of the Mississippi river,' said Passenger Agent Burley of the Union Pacific. 'These lines demand a larger proportion of the rate than they are entitled to. They want $20 for the round trip from Chicago to Kansas City, which is only 30 per cent, less than full fare, and more than the Trans-Missouri roads can afford to give them.'

'It don't make much difference what rates the railroads make, we are going to do all the business,' said a ticket broker.

'Suppose the roads put the rate down as low as $60. The Union Pacific will have to give the same rate to Helean and other northwestern points in order to meet the competition up here, and we can sell those tickets from here for $10.''
